Now a days the researchers publish their research findings mainly in the form of articles / papers in scientific and technical journals. This indicator is directly linked to the career of an individual researcher and an institution for getting funds, recognition etc. There are several tasks involved in the process of publication such as contents of scientific paper, referencing styles and tools, citation databases, publishing ethics and plagiarism, choosing right journal, Impact Factor and h-index etc. To impart greater awareness about the issue of Intellectual Property Right (IPR), this is gained special importance for all the domains. The workshop is aimed at imparting training to
